

NEWS photo Paul McGrath

Safe hands

RESCUERS unload a "victim" onto the dock at Horseshoe Bay during a rescue drill Saturday. Members of the local Canadian Coast Guard Auxiliary units gathered at Horseshoe Bay to take part in search and rescue exercises along with competitions in pumping drills and man-overboard scenarios. Up to 30 members took part in the training exercises. See more photos at www.nsnews.com.